JUROR STATEMENT

It was a pleasure judging this year's RAM exhibition of Indiana and Ohio artists and artisans. The variety and scope of artistic expression was impressive, from beautiful craftsmanship in wood and clay, to plein air and figurative painting.

Really fine drawing is rare enough in today's exhibitions - particularly those which feature the subtle dance between accuracy of shape and interpretation of form. The drawing that won this year's top award exhibits all these qualities and more; sensitivity of line, loving attention to the poetic possibilities of curvilinear shapes and a strong characterization.

On the landscape front, there seems always to be much in the way of robust plein air painting today. The one-session on-the-spot bravura sketch, many quite large, rules the day in most of our exhibitions. They have undeniable appeal and for good reason. But it is rare to find the sustained effort, over time, of repeated visits to the same location. Where the aim is subtlety of expression, and careful nuance of edge, color and value relations, such pieces stand out. The top landscape award winner exhibits these qualities, and skillfully adds the difficult to cultivate sense of a single unified visual impression of the whole over the individual parts. These were also awarded top prizes.

Congratulations to those that made it in the show. Your focus on good drawing skills, craftsmanship, fine design and good composition was satisfying to see.

Carl Samson

FROM THE DIRECTOR

When the fiscal year began on June 1, 2021, RAM was still adjusting to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. Yet our donors, patrons and students showed up in record numbers to attend our exhibitions, special events and educational programs.

For the first time in many years, RAM had the entire student population from Richmond Community Schools visit the museum. Specifically, they attended one of the most impactful exhibitions that RAM has had the opportunity to host. The Amos Lemon Burkhardt: You Miss 90% of the Shots You Don't Take exhibit engaged our audience in a completely new way through active participation and interaction. The ground breaking exhibition, focused not only on the incredible art of Amos Lemon, but the struggles he had with mental health, addiction and gender identity. RAM led 70 docent tours to nearly 2,500 people, more importantly, 1,300 high school students were able to share in this experience. RAM continues to be the one of the only art museum students in our region have the opportunity to ever visit.

2021-2022 Annual Report

The RAM Van Go became instrumental in our growing multi-cultural, hands on, Art is... program by reaching 1,600 students in Kindergarten through Third grade. Lance Crow, Educational Director, led with two other instructors to present activities inside the classrooms.

We are looking forward to celebrating the 125th Anniversary of the Richmond Art Museum and are excited to share with you all, a year's worth of exhibits, programs and special events that focus on the museum's past, present and future.

Thank you,

Shaun Dingwerth
Executive Director

EDUCATION AND VISITOR EXPERIENCE

The impact of RAM educational programming begins at a young age. K – 3rd grade students engage in a hands-on, multicultural learning program called Art Is... where they learn about a different culture through art. This program is now a two-part piece which includes a visit to the classroom with our RAM VanGO, and then a field trip to the museum! Art Is... meets 22 state academic standards. For many in our region, RAM is the first and sometimes only art museum children will encounter, and we strive to make it a meaningful, memorable experience.

Whether it is through RAM VanGO outreach, Art Is..., school tours, class visits, field trips, summer Young Artist Camps, or RAM high school programming like the All Wayne County High School Art Exhibition or the Phantoscope High School Film Festival, we consistently consider the student population in our annual programming, which consists of nearly 200 programs annually, RAM strives to inspire creativity in youth and adults alike, and enrich the community through art.

*Lance Crow
Education Director*

Art Is...India

Art Is...India was another successful venture, and another example of RAM's versatility! RAM took Art Is...India into classrooms with the help of the RAM VanGO! Education Director, Lance Crow, and instructors Sontina Reid and Bess Sturgis led the programs simultaneously in elementary schools in Richmond and Wayne County, some sessions reaching as many as nine classes in a single day! Completing the hands-on portion of the exhibit in the classroom was great, and in the future we look forward to combining the school visit and museum visit to make Art Is... the most impactful program it can be! Thank you to the Quigg Fund for endowing Art Is... as well as the continuing financial support from 3Rivers Federal Credit Union, the Efroymsen Family Fund and the Stamm Koechlein Family Foundation.

Phantoscope

The 15th Annual Phantoscope High School Film Festival was celebrated in style with the return of a live screening for the first time since 2019! Guest speaker Jess Lakoff Cannon (pictured), an RHS alumna and Hollywood Camera Operator, provided a lively and frank discussion with Emcee Scott Allen Tucker, covering such topics as getting started in the film industry and what it's like to be a working mom in Hollywood. 11 films out of the 141 submitted were chosen for this year's festival, which included a new cash prize of $500 for the Best Hoosier Film! That prize was taken by North Central Indianapolis high school seniors Charles August Horvath and Noah Howson for their 8-minute film, "The Shot," while this year's $1,000 Best Film Award was won by sophomore Ella Janes of Oklahoma City for her 6-minute film, "The First 280 Honest Words of My Life."

Secret Garden Tour

The 23rd Annual Secret Garden Tour, sponsored by First Bank Richmond, delighted all with three spectacular gardens and a special guest site – the Cope Environmental Center! From an enticing swimming pool to a pond complete with lily pads to a secluded hiking trail, there was a surprise around virtually every corner. Lovely weather and great growing conditions contributed to a fun and inspirational experience for the approximately 700 guests who strolled through four beautiful and unique landscapes this year. Plein Air painters were once again on site, capturing vistas large and small and providing yet another element of surprise. A hidden gem tucked away in a modest Richmond neighborhood and a sprawling farmscape (complete with horses!) combined with the wilder natural beauty of Cope to make this year's Tour a special treat! The Secret Garden Tour has helped raise over $250,000 in its vibrant and colorful existence.

En Fresh Air

2021 was the 3rd year of a quick fan favorite fundraiser for RAM, En Fresh Air. The event is an outdoor evening of experiences including food, beverages and art! The gracious hosts of the third annual event were Daniel and Nicole Stults, who allowed RAM to set up on the beautiful grounds of their country estate. We thank them for their hospitality! Plein air painters were invited to paint all day leading up to the event, and then a show and sale of their completed works was held. In addition to the show and sale, the plein air painters were set up during the event and were painting as the guests arrived. People were able to watch as paintings came to life before their eyes! Ceramic artist, Brian Haviland, demonstrated the Raku firing technique for guests! En Fresh Air is quickly becoming a beloved RAM fundraiser and we look forward to many more fun evenings of food, drink and art!

Young Artist Camps

For three weeks every summer, RAM's Young Artist Camps unleash the creativity of local students, age 5-13. This year we hosted 3 weeks of art camp, in the RHS art classrooms. The format of the camps were 3 hour half day AM or PM art camps. The structure allowed for more students to participate and at a higher level of output and creativity. Teachers Lily Vincent, Jana Angelucci and Sontina Reid each taught a unique camp with fantastic interdisciplinary art activities. No two camps are the same. At RAM camps, campers explore a different theme each week and work with many different types of media including painting, drawing, printmaking, sculpture and more. RAM continues to lead the way in developing the next generation of talented artists in Wayne County and beyond!

Palette to Palate

In 2022, Palette to Palate was back after a year's absence. RAM and IU East welcomed guests Under the Boardwalk! Featured artists were Luke Crawley and Quincy Owens, Stephanie Galli, and Ali Carter-Rivera. The Sean Lamb Band was the musical act. Guests socialized and enjoyed the fan favorite signature cocktails during the social hour, enjoyed boardwalk-themed cuisine from What the Truck catering, and then gave generously during the appeal for support for both great organizations. We look forward to enriching this fundraiser each year with our tremendous partner, IU East!

Potterypalooza

2021 was the 9th anniversary of the beloved community event, Potterypalooza! It was the first year since COVID that we returned in person for the pottery-only art festival. With more than 700 people in attendance and nearly 25 potters, live music, food and pottery wheel demonstrations, the event was a success. RAM continues to highlight the ceramic arts as an important part of the artistic life in our region!

All Wayne County High School Art Exhibition

The 16th Annual All Wayne County High School Art Exhibition was installed in the Paul and Pat Lingle Gallery and the Patricia Quigg Lakoff Gallery. We look forward to offering this unique opportunity for high school artists to display their works in a museum setting. Each of the six Wayne County high schools is well represented in this exhibit! Many outstanding young artists won awards for drawing, painting, sculpture and more! We are proud of the students and art teachers in Wayne County.

Berthelsen Gift

In 2021, Lee Berthelsen, son of American artist, Johann Berthelsen (1883-1972), generously gifted over 150 artworks by his father to the Richmond Art Museum permanent collection. RAM now is the repository for the largest amount of work by Johann Berthelsen in the country. The gift also includes many works by Wayman Adams (1883-1959), who was a close personal friend of Berthelsen.

Born in Copenhagen in 1883, Berthelsen was one of seven sons and the son of a tenor with the Royal Opera. In 1890, his mother brought the children to America, settling in Michigan and would eventually live in Manitowoc, Wisconsin. Although Berthelsen worked at several trades, his mind and heart were always with the arts. Berthelsen would become a singer, actor, painter and teacher. He enjoyed a rich and varied career, touring the US and Canada in operas, concerts, Gilbert & Sullivan, and operettas.

In 1913, at the age of 30, he became the youngest ever head of the voice department at the Indianapolis Conservatory of Music. It was during this time that he began a friendship with painter, Wayman Adams. They would remain friends for the remainder of their lives. Adams painted many portraits of Berthelsen including a life-sized image of his friend preparing to go on stage that is on view in Starr Gallery.

In 1920, seeking to advance their careers, Berthelsen and Adams moved to New York, where both achieved rapid success. Although self-taught, he benefited from the company of other artists such as Svend Svendsen (1864-1944) and learned much from their comments and observations. Berthelsen was elected to the American Watercolor Society in 1925 and the Salmagundi Club in 1935.

Today, Berthelsen is recognized for his New York winter scenes with iconic American flags waving. These popular subjects, bursting with movement, were acquired by many famous people including Frank Sinatra, William Randolph Hearst and Richard Berlin.

The museum is grateful to Lee Berthelsen for selecting the Richmond Art Museum as the repository for his father's work and legacy. Lee believes strongly in RAM's mission of exhibiting Indiana artists and stewardship of our collection.

Thank You

We extend our gratitude to each donor who made a gift to RAM during our fiscal year June 1, 2021 – May 31, 2022. This list does not reflect our 8,500 members from whom we are extremely grateful for their annual support.
